Do you know of a lodge, mason or master that deserves to be recognized as Mason of the Year, Master of the Year, Lodge of the Year, or the Distinguished Service Award? I'd like to hear about it and why you think they deserve it. Send me the details of what they have accomplished.

The Masonic Apron of Colorado

Since becoming a Mason, I have heard many comments about the Masonic apron—some prefer a more ornate apron with extensive symbolism, while others prefer one that is plain and unadorned. Rather than argue for a position, this article shares research on the wearing of the Masonic apron in Colorado: a short journey through the origins and development of the apron practiced under the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Colorado.

The History of Officer Aprons in Colorado Freemasonry

Among the many visible symbols of Freemasonry, few are more universally recognized than the Masonic apron. From the plain white lambskin of the Entered Apprentice to the distinctive regalia of Grand Lodge officers, the apron reflects both the equality of the Craft and the responsibilities of office. In Colorado, as in many American jurisdictions, the law and custom surrounding aprons have evolved considerably since the Grand Lodge was established in 1861.

Vincent T. Johnson;
Senior Grand Deacon

Early Colorado Practice

In the earliest years of Colorado Freemasonry, uniformity was far less rigid than it is today. Nineteenth-century American lodges often permitted considerable variation in regalia, and Colorado was no exception. Officers frequently wore aprons bearing the emblem of their station, while Past Masters often possessed personalized aprons commemorating their service.

This practice became widespread throughout the United States during the mid-nineteenth century, particularly as commercial manufacturers began producing complete sets of officer aprons for lodges. These aprons often featured elaborate embroidery, bullion fringe, and symbols unique to the office or individual Mason.

The Principle of Plainness

Over time, Colorado adopted a stricter standard than many jurisdictions. The Grand Lodge ultimately codified the requirement that the Craft apron be "plain and unadorned." This decision reflected a desire to emphasize the equality of all Masons and to preserve the ancient simplicity of the lambskin apron.

The apron symbolizes innocence, purity of life, and rectitude of conduct. Its simplicity serves as a constant reminder that, regardless of rank, title, or worldly distinction, every Mason stands equal upon the level.

Changes in Law and Custom

Colorado's regulations have steadily moved toward greater uniformity. Where earlier generations might have encountered a variety of personal or locally designed aprons, modern Colorado Masonry emphasizes consistency throughout the jurisdiction.

Today:

- Master Masons generally wear plain, unadorned white aprons.
- Past Masters may wear the authorized Past Master's patch.
- District Lecturers may wear the authorized District Lecturer's patch.
- Grand Lodge officers wear regalia prescribed by Grand Lodge law.

This structure preserves both the equality of the brethren and the dignity of office. An officer's apron serves as more than mere decoration; it visibly represents duty, authority, and service.

When a brother assumes an office, he does not simply occupy a chair—he undertakes sacred responsibilities.

Other Facts of Interest

1. The Apron Is the Oldest Symbol of Freemasonry

Long before the Square and Compasses became universally recognized, the apron served as the primary badge of a Mason.

2. Early Masonic Aprons Were Much Larger

The aprons of operative masons were large and practical, often extending from the chest to the knees to protect clothing while working stone.

3. The Apron Is Universal

The apron is the only piece of regalia required of every Mason, regardless of jurisdiction. It reinforces the great truth that all Masons meet upon the level, regardless of rank or station.

4. The Apron Is Presented in the First Degree

In virtually every Masonic jurisdiction, the apron is presented during the Entered Apprentice degree, emphasizing that Masonry begins with labor.

Conclusion

The Masonic apron remains one of the most meaningful emblems in all of Freemasonry. Whether plain or ornate, its significance lies not in its decoration, but in what it represents: purity, labor, service, and equality.

Colorado's emphasis on the plain white apron beautifully preserves these ancient principles while allowing distinctive regalia to mark those called to leadership and service. It is a balance between equality and responsibility, between humility and honor.

I hope this brief examination has shared something you may not have known. For others, perhaps it has rekindled an appreciation for that simple badge which every Mason is first taught to wear with pride, and which, if faithfully honored, will remain a lasting symbol of a life well lived.

Paraguay, COMASUD, and Bringing Ideas Home

by R.:W.:B.: Jerry Underwood, Deputy Grand Master

Every international Masonic conference offers an opportunity to strengthen friendships, but the true value lies in bringing home ideas that make our own jurisdiction stronger. That was the purpose of my recent trip to Paraguay to attend the annual meeting of the South American Masonic Confederation (COMASUD) as the representative of the Grand Lodge of Colorado.

Throughout the conference, Grand Masters and senior leaders shared practical strategies that are producing measurable results. Rather than focusing on theory alone, discussions centered on candidate development, leadership education, mentorship, accountability, and creating Lodges that members genuinely want to attend.

Many South American jurisdictions are experiencing sustained growth because they have intentionally invested in quality over quantity while building a culture of regular fellowship and engaged leadership.

R.:W.:B.: Jerry Underwood Deputy Grand Master

"Seeing these concepts successfully implemented by other Grand Jurisdictions provided valuable confirmation that our own efforts are moving in the right direction."

For Colorado, these conversations reinforced several priorities already underway. Strong candidate formation, meaningful mentorship beginning on day one, leadership development, and consistent fellowship outside of stated meetings are not simply good ideas; they are proven practices that strengthen Lodges and improve member retention. Seeing these concepts successfully implemented by other Grand Jurisdictions provided valuable confirmation that our own efforts are moving in the right direction.

The conference also highlighted the importance of international relationships. Freemasonry is universal, and sharing experiences across jurisdictions allows each of us to learn from both successes and challenges. The opportunity to exchange ideas directly with Grand Masters and senior leaders from across South America created relationships that will continue long after the conference concluded.

The Grand Lodge of Paraguay provided an exceptional venue for these discussions. Their hospitality reflected the very best of our fraternity and created an atmosphere where open dialogue and collaboration flourished. It was an honor to present greetings from Colorado, exchange fraternal gifts, and strengthen the bonds between our jurisdictions.

Colorado presented the Grand Master of Paraguay, MWB Jose Fernandez Zacur, with the official hat worn by the Grand Lodge officers of Colorado

While we enjoyed experiencing Paraguay's rich culture, history, and natural beauty, including the remarkable Iguazú Falls and historic Jesuit missions, those moments complemented rather than defined the journey. The lasting value of the trip will be measured by the ideas we can adapt and implement to better serve Colorado Masonry.

Belen also played an important role by building relationships with the First Ladies of several South American Grand Lodges. Those conversations emphasized that the success of Freemasonry extends beyond the Lodge room and is strengthened through the support of our families and the relationships they cultivate.

Belen with the First Ladies of several South American Grand Lodges, Oklahoma, and the wife of the Grand Chancellor of Paraguay

As I returned to Colorado, I did so with renewed optimism. The conference demonstrated that when jurisdictions commit to intentional leadership, meaningful mentorship, and accountable execution, Freemasonry thrives. Those lessons will help inform our continued efforts to strengthen our Lodges, support our members, and ensure that Colorado Masonry continues to grow in both quality and purpose.

So Mote it Be.

Who is Job's Daughters International?

As a Master Mason, have you ever wondered what opportunities are out there for your daughters? An organization where they can gain some of the same friendship, leadership and personal development that you get from your membership in your lodge, but for girls? Some place where the adults share similar values and look out for your kids as if they were your own?

Have you heard of Job's Daughters International? We are an International Organization for girls from 10-20 and in 5 countries around the world. Originally founded in Omaha, Nebraska in 1920, we were the outcome of a progressive idea that young ladies needed a place to learn leadership, public speaking, communication skills, respect for elders and most importantly, teamwork.

Much like the Masons, we require a belief in higher power and welcome members of all faiths. While Job's is religious in nature, we are not a religion and not a substitute for one. All members are encouraged to practice their own faith, in their own way. Our members are of many different faiths and religions and are brought together to improve themselves and do good for their community.

Job's Daughters will be hosting an information booth at Grand Lodge in Grand Junction this year and we would love to talk to you and your families! We would love to get a bethel started on the Western Slope again. We will have some candy and information packets and some past members who have lots to say about the benefits of JDI so come by and see us! Or reach out to us at cojdigest@gmail.com and we will send you information.

“Anti-Masonic Almanac 1831”

Following the “Morgan Affair” in 1826 New York there was a popular uprising of Anti-Masonic sentiment in the United States leading to the formation of the first successful third political party; you guessed it, the Anti-Masonic party the following year in 1827. The museum has this very interesting nearly two-hundred year old booklet from that time period giving us valuable insight into the various perspectives of that popular movement which, among other views, propagated the idea that Masons controlled the government and many aspects of society due to their prominent members.

This ongoing series of articles highlights the fascinating artifacts contained within the Grand Lodge Museum that you can see on your next visit. The museum is not supported by the Grand Lodge budget and needs your help to preserve and protect our treasured history. Please contact the Grand Secretary to see how you can help!
